READ—

Annual Report on Civil and Criminal Justice for 1877.

No. 11521—J. 209, DATED BANGALORE, 13TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER THEREON. - The period of which this report treats was one of especial hardship producing an abnormal state of crime, while it materially reduced litigation. Such conditions demanded special measures to meet them, many of the Civil Courts were therefore closed for a time; the presiding Judges were employed magisterially and as famine relief officers. To relieve the ordinary Criminal Courts an Additional Sessions Judge in Nundydroog, an Assistant Sessions Judge first in Nagar and afterwards in Ashtagram, thirteen First Class Magistrates, and nine Second Class Magistrates were specially appointed.

This naturally raised the cost of judicial tribunals from Rs. 6,32,138 to Rs. 6,42,287. At the same time the realizations from fines and stamps both fell. The net cost of tribunals rose therefore in greater proportion being Rs. 3,90,926, nearly Rs. 80,000 over the cost in 1876.

Decrease in receipts from stamps was under the circumstances to be looked for, but it is not satisfactory to find from paras 39 and 40 of the report that the decrease in receipts from fines arose, not from that form of punishment being less often imposed, or more leniently inflicted, but from the proportion of realizations to amount imposed being very small. A greater number of persons were fined, the total amount imposed was about Rs. 32,000 more than in 1876, but the realization of Rs. 52,473-14-8 compares very unfavorably with Rs. 1,13,191-4-7 imposed. This shews, as the Judicial Commissioner remarks, either that fines are inflicted without due regard to the means of the persons fined, or that proper measures are not taken to levy the fines imposed.

Both causes, in all probability, were at work; each can be remedied, and the Chief Commissioner desires that measures be taken, with a view to improving this undesirable state of matters.

The table given in para 10 of the report, in which the number of offences reported is given and the offences are classified, tells a very lamentable tale of want and penury driving a quiet people to commit desperate crimes :—

Class of Offences.	Nundydroog.		Ashtagram.		Nagar.		Total.
	1876.	1877.	1876.	1877.	1876.	1877.	1876.	1877.
I. Against the State, Public Justice, &c. ...	1,366	468	284	376	281	302	1,931	11,46
II. Against the Person ...	3,668	2,557	2,119	1,617	1,498	1,219	7,285	5,393
III. Against Property ...	2,613	9,385	1,282	3,153	1,275	3,871	5,170	16,409
IV. Against Special Laws ...	946	1,330	329	187	336	558	1,610	1,875
Total.....	6,593	13,740	4,014	5,333	3,389	5,750	15,996	24,823

No cause is assigned for the decrease in offences against the State, public justice, &c., and there is reason to fear that the decrease has only occurred in the number of which notice has been taken, that no fewer offences were committed, but fewer prosecutions were instituted.

In offences against the person the decrease is easily understood. People had more earnest work to do than to carry petty quarrels and trifling assaults before the courts, accordingly it is noticed "Summons cases" dropped from 19,559 to 12,443. But the most serious crimes coming under this class increased in number greatly. The number of murders reported was 143, having been only 42 in 1876, and no less than 160 persons were convicted. Attempts to commit murder, and cases of culpable homicide rather numbered 118 instead of 20. Cases of grievous hurt and hurt with dangerous weapons also increased though not in such proportions.

Annual Report on Civil and Criminal Justice for 1877.

No. 11521—J. 209, DATED BANGALORE, 13TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER THEREON. - The period of which this report treats was one of especial hardship producing an abnormal state of crime, while it materially reduced litigation. Such conditions demanded special measures to meet them, many of the Civil Courts were therefore closed for a time; the presiding Judges were employed magisterially and as famine relief officers. To relieve the ordinary Criminal Courts an Additional Sessions Judge in Nundydroog, an Assistant Sessions Judge first in Nagar and afterwards in Ashtagram, thirteen First Class Magistrates, and nine Second Class Magistrates were specially appointed.

This naturally raised the cost of judicial tribunals from Rs. 6,32,138 to Rs. 6,42,287. At the same time the realizations from fines and stamps both fell. The net cost of tribunals rose therefore in greater proportion being Rs. 3,90,926, nearly Rs. 80,000 over the cost in 1876.

Decrease in receipts from stamps was under the circumstances to be looked for, but it is not satisfactory to find from paras 39 and 40 of the report that the decrease in receipts from fines arose, not from that form of punishment being less often imposed, or more leniently inflicted, but from the proportion of realizations to amount imposed being very small. A greater number of persons were fined, the total amount imposed was about Rs. 32,000 more than in 1876, but the realization of Rs. 52,473-14-3 compares very unfavorably with Rs. 1,13,191-4-7 imposed. This shews, as the Judicial Commissioner remarks, either that fines are inflicted without due regard to the means of the persons fined, or that proper measures are not taken to levy the fines imposed.

Both causes, in all probability, were at work; each can be remedied, and the Chief Commissioner desires that measures be taken, with a view to improving this undesirable state of matters.

The table given in para 10 of the report, in which the number of offences reported is given and the offences are classified, tells a very lamentable tale of want and penury driving a quiet people to commit desperate crimes:—

Class of Offences.	Nundydroog.		Ashtagram.		Nagar.		Total.

Total.....	8,593	13,740	4,014	5,333	3,389	5,750	15,996	24,823

No cause is assigned for the decrease in offences against the State, public justice, &c., and there is reason to fear that the decrease has only occurred in the number of which notice has been taken, that no fewer offences were committed, but fewer prosecutions were instituted.

In offences against the person the decrease is easily understood. People had more earnest work to do than to carry petty quarrels and trifling assaults before the courts, accordingly it is noticed "Summons cases" dropped from 19,559 to 12,443. But the most serious crimes coming under this class increased in number greatly. The number of Murders reported was 143, having been only 42 in 1876, and no less than 160 persons were convicted. Attempts to commit murder, and cases of culpable homicide together numbered 118 instead of 20. Cases of grievous hurt and hurt with dangerous weapons also increased though not in such proportions.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, Judicial Department, 13th March 1879.

But it is in the class of offences against property that the greatest effect of the year's famine is seen; the number reported rose by 217 per cent, dacoities and robberies numbered 549 and 318 in place of 187 and 127, and the character of these crimes, which were mostly 'bread riots' is still further exemplified by the fact that the number of persons convicted for these offences reached 2,268, nearly three times the number convicted in 1876. Proportionally a still greater increase took place in cases of theft and housebreaking which numbered 12,531, nearly four times as many as the 3,250 cases reported in 1876. That little attempt was made at concealment of guilt is evidenced by the fact that although grain, which is difficult to identify, was generally the property stolen, about 80·5 per cent of the persons brought to trial on these charges were convicted.

Offences against special and local laws shew no marked increase, except in the Nundydroog Division, where they are always more numerous than in others. This to some extent indicates that it is probably true as suspected by the Nagar Division Commissioner that such offences are often dealt with irregularly, a practice which the Chief Commissioner trusts the Judicial Commissioner will be able to put down.

The percentage of cases in which convictions were obtained was high. As already remarked many did not attempt to escape. In Magistrates' Courts 71 per cent of the cases tried ended in conviction, and in Sessions Courts the percentage was 83. In 1876 the figures were 55 and 72.

Of persons placed on trial, the percentage convicted was 63 as compared with 43·8 in 1876, as the following table shews :—

	1876.	1877.
Discharged	4,491	6,272
Acquitted	14,057	11,760
Convicted	16,359	30,787
Died, escaped or transferred	16	187
Pending trial	371	1,158
Total.. ...	35,294	50,164

The results of trials shew that convictions are much more often obtained in cases brought up by the Police than in those that come on by order of the Magistrate. In regard to this the Judicial Commissioner remarks "I do not approve of the Magistrates being taken to task merely for a low percentage of convictions, as it may lead to encourage convictions on insufficient evidence." This is true and it may be added, that all a Magistrate can do, generally, before deciding whether or not to take on a case, is to cross question the complainant himself, whereas the Police go through all the evidence forthcoming, the results of Police cases should therefore show a higher percentage of convictions, but the difference now existing is too great to be thus explained. Police cases sometimes, certainly, have the advantage of a prosecutor present who knows the case and understands how to conduct it, whereas in "Magistrates' cases" the Magistrate has, in the mofussil, to do almost everything himself; yet after making every allowance for these considerations the Chief Commissioner cannot but be pleased to hear that the necessity of duly examining the complainant under section 144, Criminal Procedure Code, before summons or warrants are issued, has been impressed on the Magistrates, for the following statements shew beyond a doubt that many are harassed by being unnecessarily brought before Criminal Courts.

The first is a statement of percentage of convictions on the number of persons brought up by the Police and brought up by order of Magistrates according to Divisions; the second shews the latter percentage again according to classes of Courts :—

Total.....					25.4		37.5

The reason why the percentage for all courts differs in the above two tables is not at all apparent. They are so given by the Judicial Commissioner.

The state of the pending file was far from satisfactory. There were 332 cases pending at the end of the year, of which 116 were pending over one month. In these cases there were 1,158 persons implicated, of whom 1,033 were in custody. The additions to the judicial staff scarcely appear to have been sufficient to cope with the very great increase of work to be done; very few moreover had not other pressing work to attend to besides criminal.

It is satisfactory that 85 per cent of the witnesses were discharged on the 1st day, but detention from 16 to 22 days, as happened in the case of some, shews grievous mismanagement. The Chief Commissioner is not prepared to go so far as to say with the Judicial Commissioner, however, that detention of witnesses beyond the 3rd day should be unknown. Doubtless this would be a very desirable state of things, but in practice it may scarcely be attained. A Magistrate cannot always regulate the precise day on which witnesses are to arrive, he cannot prevent them coming, in some cases, in greater numbers than he can possibly examine in three days, and he cannot send them away until they have been examined.

The Chief Commissioner has already remarked an apparent want of discrimination in the imposition of fines, with that exception the Judicial Officers appear to have used discretion in the infliction of punishments. Fines without imprisonment were imposed considerably less frequently than in 1876, notwithstanding the greater number of cases; this is in a great measure due to the decrease in petty summons cases, but may also be ascribed to attention paid to the condition of the people, which made fining a less suitable mode of punishment than usual. Whipping was inflicted four times as often as in the year before, and simple imprisonment though more often awarded bears a smaller proportion to the whole number of imprisonments inflicted.

It is instructive to note that notwithstanding the greatly increased number of original cases there were fewer appeals preferred from sentences by Magistrates than in 1876. The apathy of a famished people, many of whom preferred jail to liberty, will partly account for this, and partly it may be due to the decrease in summons cases and infliction of fine only. The results of appeal were much, as in the previous year; 29 per cent of the sentences appealed against were reversed.

*Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, Judicial Department,
13th March 1879.*

The average duration of cases both original and appeal in Magistrates' Courts and in Sessions Courts increased a little, but not unduly considering the circumstances of the year.

The criminal work of the Judicial Commissioner's Court increased, as is natural. Appeals from Sessions Courts unlike those from the sentences of Magistrates increased by 60 per cent, and in 14·7 per cent of these cases the sentence was reversed or modified. This as remarked by the Judicial Commissioner is not favorable to the Courts below.

Civil Justice.

The number of suits instituted was 30 per cent less than in the previous year. The circumstances of the year would probably have tended to reduction of litigation in any case, but that the principal cause was the closing of the Civil Courts for 3 months is shewn by the great falling off in Munsiffs and Judicial Assistants' Courts. In the former the decrease was general and amounted to nearly 50 per cent, in the latter one court only had increased work and that was owing to an exceptional cause. The Bangalore Small Cause Court had nearly as many cases as in 1876, and the number increased in the Courts of Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners, but only a very few cases are instituted in these higher courts of first instance. These circumstances tended to increase the average value of suits instituted, but there were other causes at work also since as may be seen from the table of value of suits decided, given in para 67 of the report, the average value of suits for less than 100 rupees rose slightly from Rs. 29 to Rs. 32.

The average duration of suits increased, doubtless owing to the many other duties which the different Judges were called upon to perform very seriously in all courts, except the Bangalore Small Cause Court.

The work of the Small Cause Court illustrates better than any other the tendency of litigation to decrease in quantity but increase in average value. This court was open throughout the year, the number of suits instituted shews only a slight falling off from the previous year and was as great as 35 per cent of all suits instituted in the Province. The average value rose from Rs. 44 to Rs. 52. The average duration of suits, as has been remarked, did not increase, indeed the duration of contested suits is slightly less than in 1876. The court has been a most important and efficient part in the judicial machinery of the Province which testifies to the efficiency and ability of its Judge Colonel Lindsay.

The long average duration of causes and the heavy pending files in the Courts of the Munsiffs are ascribed to the exceptional circumstances of the year and on the whole this most probably is just, but the Chief Commissioner observes it is not advisable to accept too readily for all an explanation which may hide inefficiency in some, and it is scarcely satisfactory to observe that in the Courts of the Shimoga and Kadur Districts, where the Munsiff's work is comparatively light and where special famine duties were not exceptionally heavy, both the pending file and the duration of trials are exceptionally unsatisfactory.

READ—

Annual Report on the Administration of Police in Mysore during the year 1877.

No. 12047—216, DATED 24TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER.—The extreme unpunctuality with which this Police report was submitted detracts greatly from its interest which would otherwise be considerable, treating as it does, of a year in which Police work was quite exceptional both in the quantity of work to be done and in its character.

2. The number of cases reported, which was nearly treble that of the year before, shewed the most marked increase in offences against property, yet in all Districts; except Kolar and the Town of Mysore, the percentage of convictions to cases found on investigation by the Police to be true shews a very favorable increase. In Kolar the falling off is slight and to some extent excusable as crime was highest in that District and detection is difficult owing to the extended frontier line.

3. Concurrent with very heavy duties in repression and detection of crime, the famine brought much extraneous work, due consideration to which must be given in looking to results. For example in the Town and Cantonment of Bangalore the Police during 1877 collected no less than 63,922 paupers and sent them to Famine Camps or Hospitals, and they disposed of the bodies of as many as 3,460 homeless paupers.

4. Notwithstanding the lawlessness of the year and it may be said too the temptations to which the members of the Force themselves were subjected, the results have been satisfactory. A larger percentage of stolen property has been recovered, and spite of many instances of arrests made on insufficient grounds, the percentage of convictions to persons arrested has also risen. Improvement must be looked for in elimination of the inefficient and untrustworthy and education of the uninstructed. But the last good work was one completely stopped for a time by the circumstances of the year which admitted of no cessation from actual hard work in the field. With returning prosperity however, it may be confidently expected that instruction and improvement will make good progress.

ORDER THEREON.—The charge of Rs. 7—0—0 for each accused person for whom a warrant is issued is an average to cover all cases whether the actual cost be greater or less. When therefore the person cannot be found the charge nevertheless is made, and should not be refunded.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, 7th March 1879.

From the Offg. Commissioner, Nundydroog Division, To the Offg. Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, General Department, No. 321, dated 31st January 1879.

Has the honor to forward for the Chief Commissioner's sanction the accompanying statement shewing the present and proposed emoluments to the Patels of villages in the Anekal Taluk, Bangalore District.

No. 11348—202, DATED BANGALORE, 7TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER.—The payment of remuneration, amounting in all to Rs. 2,843—8—1, to the Patels of Anekal Taluk, as shewn in detail in the above statement, is sanctioned with effect until the settlement of the taluk introduces a new scale.

2. The land now assigned in payment of remuneration will, as was ordered in Chief Commissioner's Proceedings No. 10089—67, dated 10th February 1879, be entered in the accounts as Government, the Patel's receipt for the kandayam being taken in lieu of the money which will in that way be remitted to the Patel.

3. In the case of the few small sums recommended to be given in cash payments from the Treasury, land not being available, the procedure laid down for remuneration of Patels in permanently settled taluks in the rules published at page 282 of the Mysore Gazette of the 14th November 1874 should be adopted.

4. With the last instalment the Patel will give in a receipt for the sum due to him which he is authorized to deduct from the collections before remitting them. This will save the inconvenience and delay of getting a bill passed and collecting Patels to receive payment of petty sums, and it will also familiarize the officials, both taluk and village, with the procedure that will eventually be introduced.

I have the honor to submit for the Chief Commissioner's information detailed statements of towards works executed by the Public Works Department made up to 31st March 1878. The abstract in the margin gives in brief the state of the account in each district, the total sum for which engagements were entered into amounted to Rs. 1,84,000, the amount realized was only Rs. 42,000 and the outstandings Rs. 1,42,000. The details shew a vast number of works the contributions promised for which are in themselves petty but make on the whole a considerable sum.

2. In accordance with the Chief Commissioner's orders in Public Works Department, his No. 330—2179, dated 6th September 1873, promised contributions are placed at credit of that department so soon as it is reported to this Office that the prescribed mutchalikas have been taken. This is done by a book entry, the amount of which is at once added to the Public Works grant for the work concerned and expended as if it was available in the Treasury. The financial effect of this system as will be seen, has been to impose on Government, at a time of debt, an outlay of considerable amount, about 1½ lakhs, in reliance on engagements which have not been fulfilled.

*Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, Department of Revenue,

3. This result may in many instances be due to the exceptional circumstances of the ryots during the past two years of famine; but I would suggest that instructions may be issued from your Office to the Deputy Commissioners of the Districts concerned, together with the statements enclosed, in view to the recovery of the outstandings during the present collection season and the remission of such as may be irrecoverable.

4. The labor which the process of recovery will entail on the Revenue Officers will be considerable. Indeed the whole system as heretofore carried out appears to involve an amount of trouble, out of all proportion to the results obtained, to the public officers concerned, the Executive Engineer who initiates the demand, the Deputy Commissioner and the Amildar who have to procure the ryots' assent verbally and afterwards in written form, and who ultimately have to enforce payment after repeated delays and evasions.

5. I would respectfully suggest that all attempts to procure contributions in money towards petty works or small contributions to large works may be abandoned. Contributions in the form of labor in accordance with immemorial usage can be demanded by the officer in charge of the work aided when necessary by the taluk authorities. So also when an important work is proposed and the ryots interested in it are able to contribute an appreciable share in money at once or are in a position to make reliable engagements, to be carried out within a reasonable time, the system of contributions may work well. But promises of trifling amount which can scarcely be voluntary and bona fide, and which have to be watched and ultimately exacted by forcible measures, or altogether remitted, seem only to entail unnecessary and vexatious work in all the public offices concerned without securing any adequate return.

No. 11616—R. 69, DATED 14TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER.—The foregoing letter is circulated for the particular attention of all District Officers to the statement of arrears of promised contributions given in para 1. Deputy Commissioners are directed to lose no time in examining the outstandings of their Districts enforcing collection where practicable and submitting recommendations for remission where necessary.

2. The Chief Commissioner recognizing that the existing system of taking credit for contributions when promised, and of requiring such contributions in money for works of all sizes has resulted in a very serious loss to Government, is inclined to agree in the opinion that it would be advantageous to fix a limit of cost of works within which contributions if made should be made in labor; on this and on the most advisable way of dealing with money contributions for large works, the Chief Commissioner desires to have the opinion of the Commissioners of Divisions and Deputy Commissioners of Districts after consultation with the more experienced subordinate Revenue Officers. The opinion of officers of the Public Works Department, Irrigation Branch, should also be obtained by the Chief Engineer.

No. 11742—REV. 233, DATED 17TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER.—The proposals, contained in the above letter from the Survey Commissioner, for the permanent remuneration of Patels and Shanbhogs of the Bangalore Taluk, are approved and sanctioned. The permanent remuneration will commence with the official year 1879—80.

2. The value of land inam held hitherto as remuneration is Rs. 3,811-4-0. Henceforth land forms no part of the remuneration, but additional jodi on the above land, added for the remuneration of the offices to which the land was formerly applicable, yields Rs. 3,726—12—0 towards the money remuneration of the officiators, and the half jodi applied to surplus land emoluments yields Rs. 42—4—0.

3. The total permanent remuneration now sanctioned amounts to Rs. 13,264-4-0 and involves additional cost to the State over the existing temporary emoluments of Rs. 6,039—1—0.

4. Payment of the remuneration will be made under Rule XIV of the Rules for remuneration of Patels and Shanbhogs, and the Deputy Commissioner should lose no time in applying and communicating to holders of Patel inam land the individual settlements as contained in the Survey Superintendent's vernacular statements which are herewith forwarded to him. The Survey Commissioner appears to be mistaken in asking that these statements should be forwarded to the Superintendent, Revenue Survey.

This Office Proceedings No. 2189—Rev. 39, dated 24th June 1878, approving of proposals for leaving the Mokhtesar Patels of the Belur Taluk in the enjoyment of their present emoluments, and requesting Ashtagram Commissioner to report whether some definite duties cannot be laid down for them.

From the Commissioner, Ashtagram Division, To the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, General Department, No. 729—Rev. 218, dated Mysore, 15th January 1879.

In reply to the printed Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner, No. 2189—Rev. 39, dated 24th June 1878, I have the honor to forward herewith for the information of the Chief Commissioner the marginally noted copies of letter and docket from the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan, suggesting certain duties to be performed by the Mokhtesar, Nad and Bagitana Patels in the Belur Taluk. It is proposed to assign to the Mokhtesar Patel the duties of supervising the revenue collections, guarding against the smuggling of sayer articles, and assisting the Police in the detection of heinous crimes, the services of the Nad Patels being utilized in a somewhat similar manner. The duties proposed for Bagitana Patels would consist in the collection of revenue, superintendence and up-keep of the survey boundary marks, avenue trees and village groves, also maintenance of village tanks and supervision of village forests, village conservancy, &c.; but I doubt whether it is possible to assign with advantage any specific official duties to these Patels.

From the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan District, To the Commissioner, Ashtagram Division, No. 908, dated Hassan, 9th October 1878.

Adverting to para 2 of the Chief Commissioner's Proceedings No. 2189—39 of the 24th June 1878, requesting me to report whether some definite duties cannot be laid down for the Mokhtesar Patels of the Belur Taluk, I have the honor to state that I consider that, under the existing state of circumstances, the following duties may be taken from this class of village servants.

- (A.) Supervision of revenue collections.
- (B.) Up-keep of the boundary marks.
- (C.) Guarding against the smuggling of the articles on which sayer duties are collected.
- (D.) Assisting the Police towards the detection of heinous crimes.

These Patels are all men of great influence in their own neighbourhoods, and will be of assistance in helping in revenue and police matters.

I think, however, that the continuance of these inams might be made conditional, on the Patels really affording assistance when called on for it.

From the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan District, To the Commissioner, Ashtagram Division, No. 1236, dated Camp Narsipur, 17th December 1878.

His docket No. 856 of the 21st October 1878, directing to submit further information regarding the Mokhtesar, Nad and Bagitana Patels of the Belur Taluk.

In reply to the above, has the honor to submit a statement furnishing the necessary information required.

Privileges and emoluments at present enjoyed by the Mokhtesar, Nad and Bagitana Patels in addition to the lands obtained from Government.	Duties performed by these Patels.	Duties which may be laid down hereafter for each of these classes.
These servants do not get Mirasi from ryots; the lands assigned for this office are enjoyed by them.	No fixed duties were assigned to these class of Mokhtesar Patels. They appear to assist the Shekdars and Shambhogs towards the revenue collection and also in carrying out generally the orders of the Taluk authorities.	Mokhtesar Patels. There is one Patel in the Taluk who has control over 6 Nad Patels, including the two Nads lately transferred to the Mudgere Taluk, and has inam lands attached to the office. He may be ordered to supervise the revenue collection, guarding against the smuggling of the articles in which sayar duties are collected, assisting the Police towards the detection of heinous crimes, and may also be held generally responsible for the due performance of the duties of the Nad, Bagitana and Village Patels under them. Nad Patels. There are 4 Nad Patels in the Taluk presiding over 167 villages. They have inam lands attached to their Nads. The services of these men may be fairly utilized in assisting the Shekdars and Shambhogs in the revenue collections, guarding against the smuggling of the articles on which sayar duties are collected, and assisting the Police towards the detection of heinous crimes. Bagitana Patels. Altogether there are 20 Patels. They have inam lands. The following work may be taken from them:— 1 Collection of revenue. 1 Repairs of boundary marks. 1 Up-keep of avenue trees. 1 Do village grove. 1 Village conservancy. 1 Do tanks. 1 Supervision over village forest.

No. 12048—113, DATED CAMP MYSORE, 24TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER THEREON.—After consideration of the report submitted by the Commissioner, the Chief Commissioner is of opinion that it will be impossible in the present altered circumstances of the Province to revive an institution more or less feudal in its character. The Chief Commissioner further thinks that it would be inexpedient, even were it, feasible to define the duties of the Patels in question, and that it is preferable to regard them as public servants liable to be called on for service upon occasions of emergency.

The establishment now sanctioned temporarily will be first instituted in Bangalore, and if found to work satisfactorily, it will be confirmed there and also introduced in other Divisions as occasion requires.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, Financial Department, 24th March 1879.

From the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, To the Secretary to the Govt. of India, Financial Department, Calcutta, No. 8560—Finl. 42, dated Bangalore, 15th January 1879.

I am desired to acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Sinkinson's letter No. 4044, dated 9th November last, returning the statements of pensions and gratuities granted in this Province during the quarter ending 30th September 1878, with observations thereon under three heads.

2. In re-submitting the statements 5 in number, I am to state that the particulars referred to in the 1st have been duly supplied; and that the statements of compensation and invalid pensions for inferior service were blank.

3. Under the 2nd head explanation is called for with reference to entries Nos. 3 and 8 in the statement headed 'Inferior invalid gratuity,' in which while the average emoluments in these cases are shown as Rs. 12 and Rs. 16 respectively, the gratuities are calculated on Rs. 10. On this point, I am desired to state that in the absence of any specific ruling, it has been the practice in this Province, under the advice of the Deputy Accountant General, to compute gratuities for inferior service on a limit of Rs. 10, even when the average emoluments of the applicant exceeds that sum. This practice is based on the construction placed on the wording of section 41 of the Civil Pension Code, which prescribes that service on pay not exceeding Rs. 10 is "Inferior Service." The correctness of this view is however, I am to observe, open to question, and a ruling on the point is solicited.

From the Under-Secretary to the Govt. of India, Financial Department, To the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, No. 1036, dated Fort William, the 27th February 1879.

With reference to para 3 of your letter No. 8560—F. 42, dated 15th January 1879, I am directed to say that the practice, at present obtaining in Mysore, of calculating gratuities for inferior service upon a limit of ten rupees is not correct, and that such gratuities should invariably be computed upon average pay for the last three years of service, even if the amount of such average pay exceeds Rs. 10. The condition of pay exceeding 10 rupees is only one of several tests for determining whether service is to rank as "Superior" or "Inferior."

Copy forwarded to the Deputy Accountant General in Mysore.

No. 12052—14, DATED BANGALORE, 24TH MARCH 1879.

ORDERED, that the above letters be communicated to the Deputy Accountant General in Mysore, to all Heads of Departments, and published in the Mysore Gazette.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, General Department, 4th March 1879.

READ—

Resolution of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 1172-VI, dated 14th January 1879, on the punctual submission of Annual Administration Reports.

Read again—

Chief Commissioner's Proceedings No. 4421—G. 103, dated 7th September 1878, appointing dates for the submission of Annual Reports.

No. 11187—GENL. 221, DATED 4TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER.—As the time again approaches for the preparation of Administration Reports, the Chief Commissioner desires to call the attention of all officers to the dates fixed in the above read Proceedings for the submission of their reports, and to impress upon each the absolute necessity for punctuality.

2. Since the date of those Proceedings the Government of India have ordered that the Vaccination Report be prepared for the financial year; the date fixed for its submission by the Deputy Surgeon General is therefore extended to the 1st June. With this exception the dates fixed already will be adhered to as they allow, the Chief Commissioner believes, ample time for the preparation of the several reports, and Mr. Gordon will view with very grave displeasure any instances of unpunctuality, such as have occurred.

3. In last year there were special reasons for being behind time, but even then the great unpunctuality of some reports, as shewn in the table below, was quite inexcusable and very discreditable. Such unpunctuality and inattention must not be repeated.

Table shewing when the several Departmental Reports are due in this Office, and when those for 1877—78 were received here:—

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, General Department, 13th March 1879.

No. 11545—GENL. 227, DATED BANGALORE, 13TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER.—As it is considered desirable to regulate the scale of expenditure to be incurred in receiving His Highness the Maha Raja with fitting ceremony on the occasion of His Highness' visit to any temple in the Province, and to provide means for meeting the charge without indenting on the Temple Surplus Funds, the Chief Commissioner directs that the expenditure to be incurred during each visit of His Highness be limited to Rs. 10 in the case of a Vishnu Temple and to Rs. 5 in the case of others. Within the limit fixed the charge actually incurred will be defrayed under the orders of the Amildar of the Taluk wherein the temple is situated, and debited to the Taluk Contingencies.

2. Whenever it is deemed necessary to incur a larger expenditure than that prescribed in the preceding para, the special sanction of the Deputy Commissioner should be obtained, and the extra or additional charge will be met out of the District Contingent allowance.

„ Deputy Accountant General in Mysore.

From the Officiating Commissioner, Nundydroog Division, To the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, General Department, No. R. 350, dated Bangalore, 28th February 1879.

In reply to the enquiry contained in para 3 of Chief Commissioner's Order No. 8919—168, dated 23rd January last, I have the honor to state from the report of the Deputy Commissioner of Kolar, whose reply to the reference from this office has been the only one yet received, it appears that it has not been the inviolable practice in that District of stamp vendors who purchase stamps for cash, to keep a Register in Form II as prescribed in paras 7 and 12 of Account Department Circular No. 807, dated 29th September 1876.

2. It is most important that this register should be insisted upon, and to facilitate this, I would suggest that the register should be in book form, and when issued impressed on every page with the Treasury Officer's seal, and the name and locality of the vendor and date of issue certified in the book under that officer's signature.

No. 11522—GENL. 226, DATED CAMP MYSORE, 13TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER THEREON.—The suggestion of the Offg. Commissioner, Nundydroog, to supply stamp vendors with books of Register No. II, each page being stamped with the official seal of the Treasury Officer; the name and locality of the vendor and date of issue being certified under that officer's signature in the book; is sanctioned.

2. The registers will be printed in Kanarese and supplied on indents being received from the Deputy Commissioners.

Offg. Secretary.

To—The Commissioners of Divisions.

„ Deputy Accountant General.

*Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, General Department,
13th March 1879.*

From the Executive Engineer, Kadur Division, To the Superintending Engineer, Roads and Buildings' Branch, No. 563—65, dated Camp Banavar, 1st March 1879.

I have the honor to bring to your notice great mischief which is being constantly done to that portion of the Tarikere-Agumbe road between the 160th and 167th miles tones, or through the Lakvalli State-forest.

2. This mischief is carried on by the contractors for felling and carting timber, it is believed, for the Depôts of the Forest Department at Lakvalli, Tarikere and Chikmagalur.

3. These contractors, firstly, fell timber so close on either side of the road that several trees, if they do not actually fall across the roadway, at any rate cause the check and side drains to be blocked up by the roots, branches and boughs, and also cause frequent encroachments on the road itself. The forest was originally demarcated by planks nailed on trees at such a distance from the roadway as evidently to preclude such mischief to the drains.

4. Secondly, these contractors are in the habit of blocking up the road drains by several boughs or jungle poles, &c., at points where they wish to cart; it may be a single log, and they invariably omit to remove these obstructions, and this is probably repeated for perhaps half the logs carted from this forest.

5. Naturally, and with good reason, our contractor for road repairs objects to be incessantly clearing away roots and boughs of trees, and the obstruction of the drains, petty repairs already being great on account of the heavy leaf fall.

6. On discussing the matter with the late Deputy Conservator, that officer referred me to the law-courts for punishing his contractors; but not only have I no leisure whatever for such proceedings, but I am of opinion that the only permanent remedy lies with the officers and subordinates of the Forest Department itself, and beg to suggest that the Head of that Department be moved to direct that the Lakvalli Ranger and his staff, who are always on the spot, be held personally responsible that the contractors, firstly, fell no timber within 30 feet of the outer edges or drains of the road, and secondly, that they either be compelled to cart logs across the drains at certain fixed points, say $\frac{1}{2}$ mile apart, where due permanent provision may be made and maintained, or else that they be compelled to remove the temporary obstructions of the drains the instant the log arrives in the roadway. This could very easily be effected by stipulation by the Forest Department in special clauses in the contract bonds. I also beg that the Forest Department may be requested to at once arrange to clear any all boughs, roots, poles, &c, at present obstructing the drains, and along side of road.

To the Secretary, General Department, for obliging consideration and orders.

The obstructions complained of are constantly occurring and are very annoying, and it seems to me that the simplest remedy is for the Forest Conservator to stipulate that the contractors are bound to remove all obstructions made by them and to make good all damage caused by them to the public highway.

4th March 1879.

C. BOWEN, Capt., R. E.,
Temporary Suptg. Engineer.

No. 11568—GENL. 228, DATED 13TH MARCH 1879.

ORDER THEREON.—A copy of the foregoing letter and of the endorsement thereon by Captain Bowen is forwarded to the Assistant Conservator, Nagar Forest Division.

2. The Chief Commissioner holds Forest Officers in charge of Divisions and their subordinates responsible for the proper working of the forests without damage or obstruction to roads, and he directs that the Forest Ranger and others be made to exercise proper supervision and to prevent a state of affairs which is little short of disgraceful.

3. Any such apathy and want of appreciation of his duty as a public servant as that reported of the late Deputy Conservator, will meet with the severe displeasure of the Chief Commissioner.

*Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, General Department,
14th March 1879.*

4. Cutting timber within 30 feet of a public road, where it is wanted for shade and ornament, should not be permitted in any forest, except for the purpose of clearing a way into the forest.
